EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The Sanskrit terms Purush and Prakriti are thought to denote the male and female principles. But these terms are gender-neutral, as is evident from the following popular story: Sita was once asked, "What is Purush and what is Prakriti?" She replied, "Mein Purush hoon, I am Purush. And Ram sahit, along with Ram, all this is my Prakriti."

To think that 'Purush' refers to only the masculine gender, that is, male energy, and that Prakriti, as nature, is only feminine energy, is to take a narrow view of what is really an expansive and inclusive perspective of creation. The Rig Ved describes Purush as the primal individual from whose body the universe was created; Purush is both the sacrificer and the sacrificed. The Mundaka Upanishad says, "Splendid and without a bodily form is this Purush, without and within, unborn, without life breath and without mind, higher than the supreme element. From Purush are born life breath and mind. Purush is the soul of all beings."

An interesting contemporary anecdote during Barack Obama's second US Presidential campaign reflects the potential synergy of Purush and Prakriti even when we see them as male and female energies. Barack Obama and his wife Michelle, on the campaign trail in Michigan, stopped for a meal at a local diner in a remote area. An attendant came up to Michelle and whispered something to her.

'Wow!' exclaimed Michelle and followed the attendant towards the back office of the diner where the owner met up with her. After 30 minutes, she came back laughing and beaming. Obama asked her, "What happened, where did you go?"

"I was invited by the owner of the diner to meet him in his office. He was in college with me!" And she added, smiling, "He used to be my boyfriend."

"That's great, if you had married him, you could have owned this nice diner in remote Michigan," said Obama. Michelle smiled and replied, "Or he could have been US President!"

Michelle played an important role in Obama's Presidential campaign as a charismatic source of inspiration, adding value to the campaign. When Purush and Prakriti work seamlessly, they set in motion a progressive process that ultimately leads to the creation of a remarkable material cosmos that is expansive and inclusive, transcending gender divides.

Man fakes his death for Rs. 80 lakh insurance

Ahmedabad: A man has been arrested in Ahmedabad, where he had been residing by assuming a new identity for the last 17 years after allegedly killing a beggar with the help of his family members in order to fake his own death and claim Rs. 80 lakh in insurance money.

Acting on a tip off, the Cops caught the man, Anilsingh Chaudhary, a native of Bhatta-Parsaul village in Gautam Buddha Nagar district of Uttar Pradesh.

On July 31, 2006, Rakabganj Police in Agra had lodged an accidental death report after a car driver, then identified as Anilsingh Chaudhary by his father, died of burn injuries when his vehicle got burnt in a fire following an accident.

Recently, the Police came to know that Anilsingh was still alive and living in Nikol area under a new name, Rajkumar Chaudhry. Anilsingh, his father Vijaypalsingh Chaudhary and brothers had lured a beggar with an offer of food. They took the beggar to a hotel near Agra and served him food laced with sedatives.

They then dumped the unconscious beggar in their car and deliberately rammed the vehicle against an electricity pole to portray it like an accident. They subsequently placed the beggar on the driver's seat and set the car ablaze to show the vehicle caught fire due to the accident.

Vijaypalsingh identified the body as that of his son and cremated it in his native village. As per the plan, Vijaypalsingh Chaudhary claimed Rs. 80 lakh in accidental death insurance of his son and distributed the sum among family members.

After collecting his share, Anilsingh Chaudhary came to Ahmedabad in 2006 and never went back to his native village in Uttar Pradesh till he was caught by the Cops in Ahmedabad.

To avoid getting caught, Anilsingh Chaudhary neither went back to his native village nor called any of his family members on phone after coming to Ahmedabad 17 years ago.

Renovation of Lalitha Mahal Palace Hotel soon

Jungle Lodges and Resorts Limited proposes to take up Rs. 38 cr. works; Govt. Order awaited

By Bapu Lingaraj Urs

Mysuru, Nov. 10- Lalitha Mahal Palace, one of the magnificent Palaces of Wadiyar era, is like a jewel in the crown of Mysuru, that stands distinctly apart for its blend of English and Italian architectural styles, making it an opulent royal abode that defines the glory after the main Mysore Palace.

Now, Lalitha Mahal Palace though converted into a hotel run by Jungle Lodges and Resorts Limited, a Corporation incorporated by Tourism Department of the Karnataka State Government, has been crying for attention because of utter neglect of building maintenance, pushing the heritage structure into a pathetic state.

The mixture of lime and mortar used in plastering the ceiling is flaking out at places, gradually weakening the iconic building, prompting the authorities concerned to propose restoration works at an estimated cost of Rs. 38 crore.

To ensure heritage aesthetics of the Palace won't suffer a dent, a report has been obtained from heritage experts about the nature of restoration work, which has to be executed by dedicated masons with expertise.

(See LALITHA MAHAL on page 8)

Let wiser counsel prevail

After spending Rs. 38 crore, which will surely lead to a supplementary bill, if the hotel is not given to an iconic hotel group like Taj or Oberoi or ITC and others of the same 5-Star status, then this Lalitha Mahal Palace Hotel will return to its present pathetic condition under the State Government-run Jungle Lodges and Resorts Ltd. Our elected representatives and NGOs of Mysuru City must rise to the occasion and oppose if and when such suicidal decision is taken by the State Government.—Ed

Government asks DC to investigate MUDA scams

Concerns raised over illegal allotment of sites and the resultant revenue loss

Mysuru, Nov. 10 (RK&DM)- In light of recent revelations exposing scams within the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), the State Government has taken decisive action. Dr. K. V. Rajendra, the Mysuru Deputy Commissioner and Chairman of MUDA, has been directed to submit a comprehensive report addressing the alleged illegal sanction of sites and issuance of sale deeds.

The Under-Secretary of the Urban Development Department, K. Latha, issued a letter dated Nov. 4, requesting Dr. Rajendra to detail the actions taken in response to the complaints received regarding these matters.

The trigger for this directive was a letter penned by P. S. Nataraj, a former MUDA employee. In his letter, Nataraj urged the initiation of legal action against former MUDA Chairmen, the previous MUDA Commissioner, the current Commissioner, Special Land Acquisition Officers and Special Tahsildars.

The alleged wrongdoing pertains to the illegal allotment of sites in developed localities on a 50:50 ratio basis to landowners who relinquished their land, instead of receiving due compensation. Despite the serious nature of the allegations, the Government had not received any report from the Mysuru DC, prompting the intervention.

Moreover, a separate complaint filed by K. Krishna on Oct. 11 sought the registration of an FIR against the current MUDA Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar, Special Tahsildar Shivakumar, Additional District Registrar Kavya and Realtor M.N. Manjunath. The complaint alleges the illegal allotment of sites to Manjunath, resulted in revenue loss to the Government.

The Government's directive also questioned the delayed submission of a report regarding the illegal allotment of an alternative site in Gokulam Third Stage, the allocation of a highly valued alternative site in Hanchya-Sathagalli in place of a smaller site and the unauthorised Khata in Hinkal Survey Nos. 293 and 293/3 for the formation of Vijayanagar Third Stage.

Expressing serious concern over these lapses, the Under-Secretary's letter emphasises the Government's commitment to address the issues and ensuring transparency in MUDA operations. The investigation seeks to uncover the truth behind the alleged irregularities and hold accountable those responsible for any wrongdoing.

4-member audit team scans bank credits, ledger entries

Mysuru, Nov. 10 (RK&DM)- In response to the suspected fake bank challan scam at the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), a dedicated four-member team, appointed by the MUDA Commissioner, has commenced a thorough investigation. The team has initiated its efforts by scrutinising the bank credits in MUDA's accounts section.

The primary objective of the team is to verify whether payments related to various MUDA services, such as Khata registration/transfer of sites, issuance of CR, map and plan approvals, and issuance of Title Deeds, have been accurately credited to MUDA's accounts at the Bank of Baroda. The team is meticulously cross checking date-wise entries of receipts in the ledger books to ensure the accuracy of bank credits and payments.

The investigation aims to compile a comprehensive list of MUDA services that were conducted without the corresponding fees being credited to the MUDA bank account. This scrutiny covers transactions from Jan. 1, 2023, onward. The team comprises MUDA Urban Planning member T.S. Shesha, Chief Accounts Officer N. Mutta, Secretary G.D. Shekar, and Executive Engineer (South) K.R. Mahesh. Their findings are expected to be submitted to the MUDA Commissioner within the next 15 days.

Simultaneously, reports suggest that three MUDA employees allegedly involved in the scam, which amounts to crores of rupees, are currently absconding. The MUDA Commissioner has reportedly instructed subordinates to issue notices to these employees at their residences, about their unauthorised absence over the past few days.

The Commissioner is taking proactive measures to ensure accountability and transparency within the organisation amidst these serious allegations.

Allotment of over 900 MUDA sites to land owners nullified

Mysuru, Nov. 10 (RK&DM)- In response to the uncovering of the fake bank challan scam and other irregularities in the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), K. Latha, the Under Secretary of the Urban Development Department, issued an order On Oct. 10, annulling the resolution passed at the MUDA Council meeting on Sept. 14, 2020.

The resolution, which approved the sanction of sites to land losers on a 50:50 ratio basis, has been deemed illegal and invalid. The annulment was executed under Section 67 of the Karnataka Urban Development Authorities Act, 1987. This move is a response to the failure of MUDA to complete the land acquisition process and compensate farmers who had surrendered their land for layout formation.

According to the order, MUDA is required to cancel the allotment of over 900 sites that were sanctioned to land loser farmers on a 50:50 ratio basis. However, it has come to light that many of these allottees have already sold their sites, putting the buyers at the risk of losing their purchased properties.

This development has prompted the public to exercise greater caution and scrutinise documents thoroughly before engaging in site transactions.

Is there a lack of accountability in critical revenue procedures?

Mysuru, Nov. 10 (RK&DM)- The failure of authorities to take action against MUDA officials who have provided records and services without verifying the actual receipt of funds in the MUDA account has raised suspicions and concerns.

When the public applies for site or land records, the standard procedure involves thorough verification by MUDA Zonal officers, the Special Tahsildar, office manager and case workers. After ensuring the correctness of all submitted documents and obtaining official approval through signatures, applicants receive an acknowledgment instructing them to pay the stipulated fees or charges.

Upon presenting the acknowledgement at the MUDA counter, applicants receive four copies of bank challans. They are then required to remit the payment at the Bank of Baroda Branch in MUDA premises. The Bank cashier issues one copy of the challan as an acknowledgment for the payment, retaining the other three for bank records.

Subsequently, applicants must submit a photocopy of the challan to the designated case worker in the MUDA Office. The file is then dispatched to the accounts section where officials ascertain that the fee has been paid before returning the file to the respective desk.

After further verification, the Office Manager, Tahsildar and Zonal Officer authorise the issuance of the requested records or certificates. Some complex files may also be routed through the Commissioner via the Secretary.

However, there is a critical lapse in the process where officials, including case workers, Office Managers and the Special Tahsildar, are responsible for ensuring that the payment has indeed been credited to the MUDA account in the Bank of Baroda.

Many employees believe that action should be taken against MUDA officials who have neglected their duty to verify whether the money has been credited to the MUDA account. Addressing this issue is crucial for detecting fake Bank challans and maintaining the integrity of MUDA procedures.

VOICE OF THE READER

Elder-friendly facilities needed at Government Offices

Sir,

Recently, I accompanied a senior citizen to the Sub-Registrar's Office for some registration work. To my dismay, the office, situated on the first floor above a bank, had no lift. Witnessing the elderly lady struggle up the stairs was disheartening.

Across the street, another State Government building presented a similar challenge. The absence of a lift left several senior citizens on the first floor, waiting to complete their tasks.

This raises concern about the Government's responsibility towards seniors and the lack of infrastructure catering to their needs. The buildings not only lacked accessibility but also failed to accommodate individuals with disabilities. The absence of mandatory elevators and ramps for wheelchair-bound citizens further highlights the need for inclusivity in facilities.

Questions arise about the significance of economic growth if it doesn't uplift the most vulnerable citizens. Karnataka's reputation as an IT powerhouse loses its lustre when basic dignity and independence are denied. It prompts reflection on the purpose of tax contributions if they don't address the needs of the aged, infirm, handicapped, and economically disadvantaged.

The neglect of those who need assistance the most calls into question the true essence of proclaimed senior citizen-friendly principles and policies.

ADGP inspects city Police units, infrastructure

Mysuru, Nov. 10 (RK&BCT)- Manish Kharbikar, the Additional Director General of Police for the Criminal Investigation Department (CID) Economic Offences, conducted a comprehensive inspection of the Police infrastructure in Mysuru, along with the functioning of various units and departments. This visit was carried out in compliance with the directives issued by the Director General and Inspector General of Police (DG&IGP), Alok Mohan.

During his visit on Wednesday, the ADGP paid a visit to the office of the City Police Commissioner, where he held a meeting with officers responsible for economic offences. He also reviewed the progress of cybercrime investigations.

After the meeting, Manish Kharbikar met with the Assistant Commissioners of Police (ACPs) from different Sub-divisions of Mysuru, as well as the Inspectors of Police Stations. He conducted a thorough evaluation of the crime rate, ongoing investigations, conviction rates, law and order and the traffic situation in the region.

Following an overnight stay in Mysuru, the ADGP was honoured with a guard of honour at the CAR Grounds yesterday. He inspected the parade and took the salute during the march past, which featured contingents from various Police units.

Subsequently, he visited the City Armed Reserve (CAR) unit and conducted inspections of the Police vehicles, the Special Branch, traffic units, the armoury, the Police Band Museum's musical instrument collection, the Mounted Police units, the temporary Police training unit, the dog squad and the bomb squad personnel. He also evaluated their readiness and functioning in the event of incidents and emergencies.

The ADGP expressed overall satisfaction with the performance and infrastructure of these units and departments and inquired about the needs and requirements of the personnel.

City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth, DCPs) M. Muthuraj and S. Jahnavi, CAR DCP A. Maruthi, Mounted Police Commandant Shailendra, ACPs, Inspectors, Sub-Inspectors and other officials were present.

Bengaluru rain fury: Guns, records damaged at CAR control room

Bengaluru, Nov. 10 (Agencies)- On Monday, Bengaluru experienced heavy rainfall that resulted in significant damage to weapons stored in the underground armoury at the City Armed Reserve (CAR)-West office in Ullal. The armoury became submerged due to the intense downpour. Police personnel faced a challenging task as they worked tirelessly to remove the rainwater that had flooded the station. According to a reliable source, a recently constructed compound gave way due to the relentless rain, allowing water to inundate the station.

CAR personnel mobilised their efforts to clear the water and promptly called for a JCB to remove the debris. Unfortunately, the arms and other materials in the storeroom suffered damage.

The control room bore the brunt of the sudden influx of rainwater, leading to extensive damage to hundreds of firearms and important documents belonging to the Police security personnel. The extent of the havoc became evident on Tuesday morning when control room staff reported for duty. Upon discovering the disarray, the staff swiftly organised and retrieved the guns and files.

Videos circulating on social media depicted weapons, including rifles and machine guns, completely immersed in water, with policemen working diligently to dry and remove the water from the arms. Officers clarified that these weapons were being cleaned in response to the intrusion of rainwater into their armoury, which had affected their weapons.

Police authorities reported that the affected weapons had been thoroughly cleaned and serviced. Approximately 500 small and large weapons, including INSAS rifles, AK-47s, SLR rifles and pistols, which had been impacted by water, underwent a comprehensive cleaning process.

3,000 Karnataka Public Schools to be opened in State: Minister

Shivamogga, Nov. 10 (BS)- School Education and Literacy Minister Madhu Bangarappa said "3,000 Karnataka Public Schools (KPS) will be opened in the State, with an estimated 300 schools planned to be opened in this academic year."

Speaking during an educational workshop on 'Change in Exam Pattern' organised at Kuvempu Rangamandira on Wednesday, Madhu Bangarappa said "KPS will offer education from LKG to grade 12. However, it would be compulsory for the students to study Kannada either as first or second language. There won't be any compromise when it comes to Kannada as 'Medium of Instruction.'"

"A total of 43,000 guest teachers and 12,000 permanent teachers are recruited in the interest of students and 20,000 more teachers will be recruited in the coming days," he said.

For record, Wadiyars of Yadu dynasty who ruled Mysore maintained a cordial relationship with the British, instead of taking a collision course. It came in handy in building modern Mysore with the Princely Mysore State credited with many firsts, that still hold a prime place in the annals of history. The British, who were also benevolent rulers, approved all the developmental works envisioned by erstwhile Maharaja of Mysore Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar, who laid the foundation for modern Mysore. So, Nalwadi decided to build a suitable Palace to accommodate British Viceroys whenever they came to Mysore and that was how foundation for building Lalitha Mahal Palace came to be laid on Nov. 18, 1921.

Edwin Wolleston Fritchley, a Mumbai-based architect designed the structure (Lalitha Mahal Palace) on the lines of St. Paul's Cathedral in London. The architecture of this Palace reflects English manor houses and Italian Palazzos. It was converted into a heritage hotel in 1973. It was run as a part of the Ashok Group of the India Tourism Development Corporation (ITDC) under the Government of India until 2018 when it was transferred to Government of Karnataka.

The Lalitha Mahal Palace on the cusp of its centenary year is a favourite among foreign tourists for accommodation, that has brought in a sufficient revenue amounting to several hundreds of crores to the Government for the last 50 years. However, neither the Central Government nor the State Government focused on its maintenance, resulting in the current pathetic state of the Palace building.

Apart from the crevices in the ceiling, the structure has become dilapidated at places, prompting the authorities concerned to make a serious effort towards restoring the building for posterity.

Bengaluru-Mysuru belt to host 'Knowledge Health City'

Bengaluru, Nov. 10 (KMS & BCT)- In a ground-breaking move, the State Government is taking strides towards establishing Knowledge Health City, strategically positioned between Bengaluru and Mysuru. This visionary project aims to become a central hub for healthcare, education and research, with substantial economic potential.

The choice of location, between two major cities with excellent road, rail, and air connectivity, makes this project highly advantageous. Mysuru's proximity to the State capital, Bengaluru and Bengaluru's strategic location near Chennai-Pune Industrial Corridor further enhance the project's appeal as a potential catalyst for economic growth.

The 'Knowledge-Health-Innovation and Research City' (KHIR) is slated to cover about 2,000 acres on the outskirts of Bengaluru, redefining the region's global prominence. M.B. Patil, the Minister for Large and Medium Industries and Infrastructure Development, envisions the KHIR as a magnet for cutting-edge knowledge institutions, top-tier healthcare facilities, innovation hubs and advanced research centres. The initial phase of KHIR project will allocate 2,000 acres to host a world-class university, a leading hospital and advanced innovation and research facilities.

A beacon of excellence

Minister Patil emphasised the significance of the project, stating, "We have envisioned a 'Knowledge-Health-Innovation and Research City' that will become a beacon of excellence. It is a testament to commitment to advancing knowledge, healthcare and innovation in Karnataka. This project will not only benefit the people of our State but will also attract global talent, investments, taking Bengaluru to greater heights."

The KHIR City is set to redefine Bengaluru's global standing by fostering the growth of cutting-edge knowledge institutions, healthcare facilities, innovation hubs and research centres, added the Minister. It will be developed to house a world-class university, a state-of-the-art hospital and advanced innovation and research facilities.

Tangible steps have already been taken by the Government, designating a site near the Bengaluru International Airport for the project's initiation. Former Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy had allocated a substantial 10,000 acres of land in this region to establish a Sub-City. The initial phase involves utilising 2,000 acres of land, with the possibility of expansion up to 10,000 acres in the future.

Conference at Vidhana Soudha soon

Minister Patil is organising a pivotal round table conference at Vidhana Soudha in Bengaluru soon, featuring eminent entrepreneurs, healthcare professionals, education experts and other key figures.

Distinguished personalities such as Infosys co-founder Kris Gopalakrishnan, Narayana Health Founder Dr. Devi Shetty, Kirloskar Systems Limited Chairperson Geethanjali Kirloskar, Zerodha and Rainmatter Founder Prashant Prakash, Manipal Hospitals Regional Chief Operating Officer Dr. Deepak Venugopal, Sparsh Hospital Chairman Dr. Sharan Patil, Quest Global Board Member Aravind Melligeri and internal medicine expert Dr. Hrishikesh Krishna Srinagesh are among the prominent attendees.

This initiative holds the promise of generating numerous direct and indirect employment opportunities across various sectors. To facilitate this, establishing a clear roadmap and defining specific strategies is imperative.

The objective of the round table conference is to formulate a well-planned strategy that maximises the State's economic benefits, making it a landmark development in the region.

'Renovation as per experts report'

Forest Department Officer (IFS) Manoj Kumar, Managing Director of Jungle Lodges and Resorts Limited, said "It has been decided to take up the renovation works of Lalitha Mahal Palace on the basis of a report submitted by a team of heritage experts and officers of Archaeology, Museums and Heritage Department. The team had been sent to Lalitha Mahal Palace, which camped there for four days and prepared a Detailed Project Report (DPR) on the methods to be followed while renovating the structure."

Manoj Kumar

"There are several Palaces with heritage significance in India that were in a state of neglect and restored later. I myself visited Chowmahalla Palace in Hyderabad and several other Palaces that have been renovated, to collate information on the nature of works. Likewise, we finally decided to take up renovation works of Lalitha Mahal Palace on the basis of expert report at an estimated cost of Rs. 38 crore," he said.

"Apart from submitting a detailed report to the Government, I have apprised both CM Siddharamaiah and Tourism Minister H.K. Patil about the urgency of taking up the works as otherwise the structure will suffer further damage. Both have responded positively and the works will be taken up once the required fund is released," added Manoj Kumar.

"At some parts of the building, the old plaster has to be completely removed to plaster anew. We can't do patch up works and cover the same with lime or paint. Such parts have been already identified," he said.

Of the estimated Rs. 38 crore, works related to rebuilding the ceiling that is crumbling at places and other types of works will be taken up while additional Rs. 20 crore is required for other renovation works, he said.

"As the estimated amount is more, we had to seek Government funds. Or else, if the required funds was around Rs. 5 or 6 crore, we would have taken up the works through Jungle Lodges and Resorts Limited itself," said Manoj Kumar.

The Cabinet Sub-Committee will take a final call on the renovation works and then the Government Order (GO) will be issued to facilitate sanctioning of funds, he said.

One last chance for long repeater students to clear exams: UoM Academic Council

UoM Registrar V.R. Shylaja addressing the Academic Council meeting in city this morning as Finance Officer Rekha, UoM VC Prof. N.K. Loknath and Registrar (Evaluation) Prof. K.R. Mahadevan look on.

Mysuru, Nov.10 (BLU&DM)- The University of Mysore (UoM) Academic Council, which met at the Vijnana Bhavan in Manasagangothri this morning, has decided to give one last chance to Under graduate and Post-graduate degree students of the University who have failed to clear their exams despite double the term (3 years/2 years) of the course they are studying to give one last chance to clear the exams.

There are about 500 repeater students who are yet to clear the exams for getting their degrees.

Soon as the meeting began, Council member Prof. Anand argued that the repeater students be given one last chance to clear their exams . But another Council Member Prof. Sridhar, who opposed it, argued that the syllabus have gone through revisions and it is not correct to give another chance to such students, considering the fact that enough chances have been given to them. But after a long deliberation on the issue, the Council ultimately decided to give one last chance to failed students to clear their exams.

Another topic that was discussed in detail was the introduction of digital valuation in even semesters (2,4,6) of the University Graduate and Post-graduate exams. While some Council members supported the idea, others opposed it saying that it will have an impact on the accuracy of evaluation of a student's answer script. Those supporting Digital evaluation, contended that such a system will save a lot of time and money, and will also help in announcing the results much quicker. They cited the example of Visvesvaraya Technological University (VTU), which is saving Rs. 5 crore annually by adopting the digital evaluation of answer scripts. After a prolonged discussion, the Council decided to take up the matter in the coming days.

UoM Vice-chancellor Prof. N.K.Loknath, Registrar V.R. Shylaja, Registrar (Evaluation) Prof. K.R.Mahadevan, Finance Officer Rekha and others were present. The meeting was on when we went to the press.

Shakti Scheme brings smile on faces of circus artistes too

Jumbo Circus in city sees a large number of women watching the shows

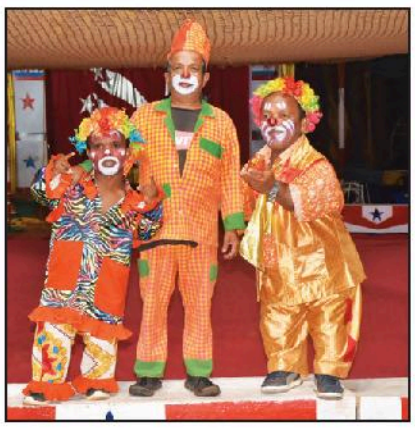
Mysuru, Nov. 10 (BS)- Shakti Scheme, one of the pre-poll promises of Congress Government that was launched on June 11 this year, is not just filling the coffers of State-run Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC), but also of Jumbo Circus in Mysuru.

It may sound strange but true, with women making maximum use of Shakti Scheme that offers free travelling for women in KSRTC buses across the State, tourism industry in the State is thriving, with the tourist spots brimming with tourists in hordes, needless to say women included.

Likewise, womenfolk who came in droves to Mysuru during the recently concluded Nada Habba Mysore Dasara (Oct.15 to 24), also visited circus which has pitched the tent at the ground behind Sri Chamarajendra Zoological Gardens (Mysuru Zoo) at Nazarbad in the city, starting from Oct. 13.

Manager of Jumbo Circus Rajeev told Star of Mysore that "Unlike previous years, we saw a good number of women watching circus this time and continue to do so, which can be largely attributed to Shakti Scheme of the State Government. I thank the Government for making it possible, as such schemes will benefit many sections of the society."

That apart, there has been an overwhelming response with nearly 5,000 people watching the shows daily, with each show of two-hour duration and 1,500-seat capacity being full, especially on weekends. A total of 26 items (acrobats) are performed by a team of 60 to 70 artistes, that includes those from African nations. Including the artistes and ground staff, there are total 150 people led by artiste couple Renuka of West Bengal and Vicky of Chennai, who zealously work only to entertain the visitors, promising a wholesome entertainment, said Rajeev.



The acrobats include the must watch trapeze in solo and group, aerial dance using a saree, Russian ring dance, power lifting, African fire dance, foot juggling, dog show to name a few, that keep the viewers hooked throughout the show. Amid this, there are a bunch of clowns in dwarfs, who are suffice to send kids into peals of laughter, with their rib-tickling funny acts.

With Children's Day scheduled on Nov. 14, the circus authorities are also planning to offer a discount in ticket price for children who come in groups to watch the shows.

There will be three shows every day — 1 pm, 4 pm and 7 pm. Entry tickets are priced at Rs. 100, Rs. 150, Rs. 200 and Rs. 300.

The Jumbo Circus will be camping here till Nov. 20, with Chennai in Tamil Nadu being their next stop. After Chennai, they will be returning back to Karnataka, mostly Bengaluru, as per the itinerary, said Rajeev.

Y.D. Mourya from Bengaluru shines at Anveshane Camp

Mysuru, Nov. 10 (BCT)- Y.D. Mourya stood out at the Anveshane Camp (Bengaluru) hosted by the Swami Vivekananda Youth Movement (SVYM) on Oct. 30 and 31. SVYM, a development organisation headquartered in Mysuru, is engaged in activities spanning Health, Education, Socio-Economic Empowerment, Training and Research.

Anveshane, meaning search in Kannada, is now in its second year, offering financial assistance for finalists to pursue PUC courses. Mourya, a standard X student at Jindal Public School, Bengaluru, excelled in hands-on sessions covering Physics, Chemistry, Mathematics and Biology.

Mourya, aspiring to be an entrepreneur, mentioned that his family and friends have always supported him. To fulfil his entrepreneurial dream, he aims to join the prestigious Indian Institute of Management (IIM) to ease the financial burden on his parents.

Y.D. Mourya receiving certificate from KVSAS Sharma, retired Chief Scientist, Central Food Technological Research Institute, Mysuru, as Dr. S. Pushpalatha, Director, Viveka Scholar Programme and Viveka Pre-University College, SVYM, Saragur, looks on.

H.Y. Moulya, Programme Manager of SVYM's School Education Programme in Dharwad, praised Mourya's subject expertise and hands-on skills.

Students were impressed by the Anveshane camp's facilities and the availability of resource persons and experienced teachers. Some parents expressed the need for the camp to reach more students, particularly from rural areas.

Currently, Anveshane selects five finalists from a pool of 80 contestants from divisional camps across the State. Parents suggested increasing the number to ten and enhancing the camp's publicity.

Bike-a-thon for road safety on Nov. 18

Mysuru, Nov. 10 (GA&KS)- Swami Vivekananda Youth Movement (SVYM) and Rotary Mysore have jointly organised a 'Bike-a-thon' to create awareness on road safety among the people in city.

Mysuru, Nov. 10 (BCT)- At the 'World Food India 2023' event, hosted by the Ministry of Food Processing Industry from Nov. 3 to 5 at Pragati Maidan in New Delhi, the Mysuru-based Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR)-Central Food Technological Research Institute (CFTRI) showcased a wide array of products developed using its cutting-edge technologies.

The event was inaugurated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who distributed Seed Capital Assistance to over one lakh Self-Help Group (SHG) members. He emphasised the event's role in positioning India as the 'food basket of the world,' especially given that 2023 is designated as the International Year of Millets.

Modi praised the technology and startup pavilion and the food street, recognising their potential to shape the future economy. He acknowledged the food processing sector as a 'sunrise sector,' highlighting its attraction of over Rs. 50,000 crore in foreign direct investment over the past nine years.

This mega food event, supported by ten Ministries/ Departments of the Government of India, six commodity boards, and 25 States, attracted substantial interest from both international and domestic stakeholders. The event featured 1,208 exhibitors and 14 country pavilions which witnessed the participation of 715 international buyers, 218 domestic buyers, and 97 corporate leaders.

The CSIR Pavilion was inaugurated by Dr. N. Kalaiselvi, Director General of CSIR, in the presence of Directors from three CSIR Constituent Laboratories and Scientists. Dr. Kalaiselvi unveiled three products, one from each of the three labs, which included CFTRI, the Institute of Himalayan Bioresource Technology and the National Institute for Interdisciplinary Science and Technology.

From CFTRI, a notable product was 'Ragi Power Punch,' an instant beverage mix made from malted ragi, developed by M/s Ram Gold. The CSIR-CFTRI booth showcased various machinery and products, including spouted bed roasters, poori forming machines, ragi mudde making machines, jowar roti making machines, tiny rice mills, pedal-operated millet mills, and a bio-fumigant system.

The exhibit also featured a variety of millet products and innovative technologies developed by CFTRI, along with research and development posters. Anita Praveen, Secretary of the Ministry of Food Processing Industry, visited the CSIR Pavilion and commended CFTRI's contributions to research and development in the food

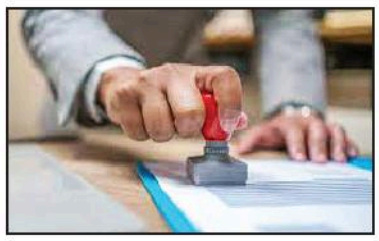
WORD OF THE DAY

Requisite



Pronunciation: REK-wuh-zut.
Meaning: Requisite is a synonym of necessary and essential that describes something needed for a particular purpose.
Origin: Acquiring an understanding of where requisite comes from won't require a formal inquiry. Without question, the quest begins with the Latin verb quaerere, which means "to ask" or "to seek." That word is ancestor to a number of English words, including acquire, require, inquiry, question, quest, and, of course, requisite. From quaerere came requirere, meaning "to ask again." Repeated requests can express a need, and the past participle of the Latin word requirere, which is requisitus, came to mean "needed" or "necessary." English acquired requisite when it was adopted into Middle English back in the 1400s.
Example: "On the eve of their own wedding, David presented Kavi with three custom fragrances in a series of ornate vintage vessels: one unique scent for each day of their traditional Indian ceremony. Naturally, the couple went on to launch his-and-her scents inspired by these sentimental creations: D.S. for David, with notes like sandalwood, saffron, and rose; Durga for Kavi, the requisite orange blossom mingling with tuberose and orris butter." — Ivana Rihter, Vanity Fair, 18 Aug. 2023

THE ODD WORD

Ranarian

Froggy.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Run out of steam

Meaning: The phrase 'Run out of steam' means that one has lost the energy or enthusiasm to keep doing what they were doing.
Origin: This phrase originated from the idea of an old-fashioned steam engine that steadily slows and then halts when the fire that controls the boiler is too low to produce steam.
Example: "The student campaign ran out of steam when it became clear there was no way they would win a seat in the council."

QUOTE BOX

Happiness consists in activity. It is running steam, not a stagnant pool.
